

Letter from The Travel Corporation

(Insight Vacations, Contiki, & Trafalgar)

Dear Travel Partner,

We wanted to alert you that, effective immediately, we will require all guests booked to travel to European destinations with any of our guided brands (including Brendan FIT), are fully vaccinated. This policy will be in effect until September 30, 2021. We will continue to monitor the local requirements and will adjust accordingly.

Cultural and leisure venues such as museums and restaurants require proof of full vaccination to be eligible for entry (or near-daily negative PCR testing results for non-vaccinated visitors). If your clients are not vaccinated, they would be required to take multiple PCR tests to participate in many of our included activities.

We wish for guests across our brands to experience travel seamlessly and joyfully. When faced with having to exclude guests from activities and subject them to frequent out-of-pocket on-trip testing, we feel that requiring all guest to be vaccinated to be the most responsible choice.

Travellers must be capable of producing documented proof of vaccination. Their government-issued proof of vaccination is sufficient (digital and paper copies are recommended), but please be aware that certain destinations may require additional steps to upload this information into local passenger locator sites.

Thank you for your continued support as we work with European authorities to make travel a pleasurable and hassle-free experience.
